Daytona Kart Week

end of December 2023 - Date TBD

Oliver Najbrt started his karting career in December 2021. Modeling after his father Martin, who competed in Enduro racing at Atlanta Motorsports Park (AMP), Oliver decided he wanted to try his hand at karting as well.

It was an instant obsession and mark of commitment that this is something he wanted to do and grow into... as a driver and as a sportsman. He learned the driving line, tyre control, and how to push his kart to its limit.

The first season of AMP as an LO206 Cadet competitor, he placed 2nd in the overall championship. Rather than going back for a 2023 season to try and claim 1st place for the same category, he decided he wanted to focus on KA100 Junior category.

March 2023 marks his entrance into the KA100 Junior category and a new chapter for him in karting.
